ADMONISHMENTS

Personal History Statement

There are very few automatic bases for rejection. Even issues of prior misconduct, such as prior illegal drug use, driving under the influence, theft, or even arrest or conviction are usually not, in and of themselves, automatically disqualifying. However deliberate misstatements or omissions can and often will result in your application being rejected, regardless of the nature or reason for the misstatements/omissions. In fact, the number one reason individuals "fail" background investigations is because they deliberately withhold or misrepresent job-relevant information from their prospective employer.

BOTTOM LINE: You are responsible for providing complete, accurate, and truthful responses.

I hereby certify that I have personally completed the Personal History Statement (PHS) and that all statements made are true and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that any misstatement of material fact may subject me to disqualification; or, if I have been appointed, may disqualify me from continued employment.

Have you read and do you understand the above PHS admonishment?  Yes  No

Pre-Investigative Questionnaire

I understand that as an applicant for this position, I am required to complete a Pre-Investigative Questionnaire (PIQ). I am aware that any false statements or omissions made on the questionnaire will cause my name to be removed from the eligibility list or be cause for non-selection. I understand that I am subject to termination if discrepancies are discovered after I have been appointed. Additionally, I understand that I am to immediately notify my background investigator or prospective employer of any changes in information related to my prospective employment. Failure to make notification of these changes could also be grounds for disqualification and / or non-selection. I also acknowledge that any records obtained during my background investigation are confidential and will be the property of my prospective employer.

Have you read and do you understand the above PIQ admonishment?  Yes  No

The California Department of Justice (DOJ) will continuously process live scan fingerprint background checks for Applicant Agencies to continue providing essential services within our state during this unprecedented outbreak of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19).

Many of our live scan site partners are open and committed to providing live scan fingerprinting services. In order to protect the health and safety of all parties, we recommend the following best practices:

All Parties

- Do not enter any live scan facility if you have any COVID-19 symptoms (fever, cough, trouble breathing, etc.), are awaiting the results of a COVID-19 test, or have been advised to self-quarantine.

Applicants/Customers

- Practice social distancing by maintaining a 6' distance between other customers.
- Wear a face mask into the facility and throughout the process.
- Be patient, as wait times between customers may be longer than normal.
- Limit any personal items brought into the site. Please have the appropriate form(s) of identification and payment ready and in hand.

Live Scan Operators

- Consider an appointment only schedule.
- Instruct the customer to wash or sanitize their hands thoroughly.
- Use gloves and face masks throughout the entire process.
- Maintain a 6' distance from the customer, while inputting their personal data.
- Disinfect your live scan system (laptop, keyboard and scanner) and any surrounding high-touch surfaces after serving each customer. Always consult your DOJ Certified Live Scan Vendor for recommended cleaning products and techniques, so as not to inadvertently damage your equipment.

ADVISEMENT TO APPLICANTS

You are about to undergo a pre-employment background investigation for a position of public trust. Fundamental to this process is your integrity and trustworthiness. The number one reason individuals "fail" background investigations is because they attempt to withhold job-relevant information from their prospective employer.

Everyone acknowledges that an intensive pre-employment background investigation may appear intrusive and even embarrassing. However, inquiries which are made either pursuant to law or are otherwise job-relevant in nature. Background investigators do not make inquiries which have no relationship to the position of public trust for which you have applied. They are also discreet and professional in the manner in which this information is treated.

While much publicized events in the public arena may suggest that quibbling, hair-splitting, or out-and-out untruthfulness is to be tolerated by public officials, this form is in place to assure you that such conduct is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. Deliberate deception of any type will disqualify you if for no other reason than your application for employment becomes an official document, and filing false documents with the government can constitute a criminal offense. Don't lie! Don't withhold information, even if you think it may be negative.

Virtually everyone has one or more issues in their background over which they feel some embarrassment, remorse, or discomfort. There are no "perfect" applicants; indeed, there are no "perfect" people. The Hemet Police Department evaluates issues in your past, both positive and negative, for their impact on your qualifications for the position you are being considered for. However, if you attempt to withhold information, we have no other option but to assume that you are attempting to obtain this position by fraud.

While issues of prior misconduct, including such things as prior having been fired or disciplined at work, being behind in your bills, prior illegal drug use, driving under the influence, theft, or even an arrest or conviction may trouble us, they are many times not, in and of themselves, automatically disqualifying. However, lying about those issues will absolutely, positively, cause your application to be rejected.

You are strongly encouraged to be as complete, accurate and candid as possible when completing your background application paperwork. It is to your ultimate advantage to be as truthful and forthcoming as possible.

CERTIFICATION BY APPLICANT

My signature below attests to the fact that I have read this form carefully, and I understand that any attempt whatsoever, whether by commission or omission, to withhold job-relevant information from the Hemet Police Department will result in my being disqualified. This includes misstatements, deliberately non-responsive answers, and misrepresentations of any type.
